Prize Winning Huskies Steal Shows

They're Champions

By JANET PARKER

Chinook and Lida are champions.

By the look on their faces, you'd swear they even know it.

The proud couple, now stately grandparents, are two frisky, Siberian Husky show dogs. Together, they have amassed more than 50 awards, medals and trophies and their offspring, a delicate young lady named Kandi, also is well on her way to the winner's circle.

Of course, their owners and handlers, Roger and Pat O'Mara, deserve some of the credit.

The O'Maras are surrounded by mementoes of their celebrity canines in their South San Francisco home. They spend weekends traveling with their dogs throughout the western states attending dog shows. The most recent trip to Missoula, Mont. produced a best of breed award for Chinook, the 7-year-old male.

For official purposes, the dogs are registered as Ch. Binkie's Ou'Zoo Nook Nook (Chinook) and Ch. Winsum's Loquacious Lida, 5. Chinook's one blue and one brown eye are a striking trait of the breed.

The O'Maras belong to the Siberian Husky Club of America, International Husky Club, and Nor-Cal Husky Club.

Breeding and showing dogs, they say, is a complicated business.

"Before you can enter competition, you have to talk to different people who have these dogs and get confirmation on their quality. Otherwise, you'll go in the ring and get

Overtures on Bruno Mountain

The would-be developers of San Bruno Mountain have turned to the Jefferson Elementary School District following the rejection of their overtures by Brisbane School District officials.

The developers, Visitacion Associates, have cited potential increased revenue as a reason JESD in Daly City might benefit from involvement in the planned hillside community.

Brisbane, however, has indicated they want nothing to do with the community which, if approved, would house 18,500 persons by 1990.

The JESD Board of Trustees Wednesday night agreed to write a letter to the San Mateo County Planning Commission indicating intent to investigate the benefits for their district should the proposed 7,655 dwellings become a reality.

They clearly stipulated, however, that they neither advocate or discourage JESD providing schools for the San Bruno Mountain community — they only want to investigate the details.

VA General Manager William Follett said Brisbane School District "asked us to do certain things that were absolutely economically unfeasible."

The district had asked Visitacion to donate all the land and build schools for the mountain community. The area would fall in Brisbane School District territory.

Follett said it would add at least $1,500 to the cost of each dwelling if Visitacion agreed.

"It seems terrible to me anybody in that district should pay $1 in extra taxes when we have schools right here in Jefferson that are unused and every bit as close," Follett told the trustees.

JESD currently is about 2,000 students below its maximum capacity of 11,000. Brisbane has room for approximately 200 students, at this time.

VA Consultant Dr. William Strand showed data which indicated the JESD tax rate could drop "as much as 57 cents by 1990" due to Crocker Hills assessed valuation. The figures did not provide for inflation factors.

"The same things apply to the high school district," Strand said. "A homeowner in Daly City would gain twice."

JESD, Strand said, could accommodate 2,000 Crocker Hills pupils without additional construction, added expense and taxes.

Trustees questioned transportation of the hillside students to the Daly City schools.

Follett said his development includes a transportation system and "it is very logical to conclude we could make a rate on these buses that would be very attractive to school districts."

Trustee Albert Schwarzbach asked why the original "romance" with Brisbane turned to disenchantment for that school district.

Follett emphasized there was no so-called romance.

"Brisbane did not want to discuss anything except developers coming in and doing the whole thing themselves. They've taken the position we are impacting their school district."

"It's just a case of all the numbers working better for you and for us for coming into this school district," Follett said. Visitacion did not realize the futility of working with Brisbane, he said, until after the series of county planning commission hearings began.

Slaying Suspect To Trial

Richard Eugene Post, 28, must stand trial for murder in the slaying of Ruth Wilhelmsen, 21, San Mateo County Municipal Judge F. Jose de Larios ruled Wednesday following a brief preliminary hearing in South San Francisco.

Post was held to answer on the charge and ordered to appear in San Mateo County Superior Court, Redwood City, on Aug. 13 at 9 a.m.

The prosecution presented only four witnesses at the preliminary hearing, including a 14-year-old boy who testified he saw Post grappling with Miss Wilhelmsen near her car parked at the Serramonte Shopping Center on June 29.

The witness, a ninth-grade student in Daly City, said he was returning home with a 10-year-old male companion after watching the movie "Breakout" at the Serra Six Theater when he spotted a man and woman "wrestling" in the parking lot about 4:30 p.m.

The man, whom he said he later picked out of a police lineup in Redwood City, was Post.

After covering the woman's mouth with his hand, the assailant pushed her into an orange and black sports car and sped off, he said.

He did not think much of it at the time.

I was not until several days later, when he read of the parking lot incident in the newspapers and of finding the victim's body that he came forward, he said.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Jeff Bovansky first put Dr. Arthur Lack Jr., San Mateo County forensic pathologist, on the stand.

Dr. Lack, who said he had participated in more than 10,000 autopsies since beginning his careeer in 1946, told the court it had been difficult to establish the exact time Miss Wilhelmsen died because of what he called "a biological phenomenon."

This "phenomenon" apparently was brought about by climatic conditions in the area where the victim's body was dumped, near Black Mountain Road in the Crystal Springs area.

The autopsy determined that Miss Wilhelmsen had been strangled to death by "strong type fingers of a (single) hand."

While Miss Wilhelmsen's body was found July 5, Dr. Lack did not complete his report on the autopsy findings until July 10, testimony revealed.

Six Month Lease for Transit Line Expected

By FRANK LaPIERRE

Northgate Transit Co. is expected to be given a six-month lease on life from the Public Utilities Commission at its meeting in San Francisco today.

Whether the lease is extended beyond that time period is up to Northgate, a PUC staff report obtained by The Post disclosed Tuesday.

Northgate has agreed verbally, in closed door meetings with attorneys from the PUC, Daly City and South San Francisco, to either buy up all buses now operating on its 18 routes in Daly City and conduct its operations as a corporation, or continue the present "owner-driver" type operation.

The company presently "leases" its driver-owned buses and the PUC says this arrangement "appears insufficient and inadequate."

It was recommended by the PUC that Northgate be given 90 days to comply.

And if the company opts to continue with its driver-owned arrangement, the PUC wants it to provide the commission with detailed plans on how it proposes to provide extra vehicles and drivers to maintain routes when a bus breaks down.

Currently, the PUC staff charges, when a Northgate bus breaks down the first route to suffer is in the Palisades area. If their is a second equipment failure, the Broadmoor-Colma run is cut back.

During the six-months period, Northgate will be given an opportunity to get its internal functions in order, including disbursement of revenues on an equitable basis to drivers, maintenance procedures, insurance coverage and an on-going preventive maintenance program for its vehicles.

The PUC also wants Northgate to call its staff within 24 hours of any mechanical failure "or any occurrence which may happen in any of its operations that results in the inability of any vehicle to properly perform when in revenue service. This report shall be confirmed in writing within three days."

The report sounded a tough note in its conclusion.

"Should Northgate not be able to comply with the various requirements and recommendations herein, any other carrier that may receive similar authority from the commission. . . ."

This indicated that the door was left ajar for Northgate's biggest critic — Daly City Transit Systems, Inc. — to operate within the city unless Northgate can meet the PUC demands.

Daly City Transit Systems has been badgering the PUC and City of Daly City for months to recognize it as a capable operator for the inter-city bus system.

But the city has refrained from all-out support of Daly City Transit Systems, preferring to let the PUC make its own determinations.

The 46-page report apparently has met approval of the four attorneys involved.

City Atty. Albert Polonsky of Daly City said he would not comment on the report until after the public hearing today.

At Monday's meeting of the council, Polonsky said no agreement had, as yet, been reached in the Northgate matter.

"Whatever agreement is reached will not preclude the public from making an appearance (at the PUC hearing)," Polonsky said.

Meanwhile, Northgate's general manager, Carlos Paniagua, who reportedly was fired May 6, apparently has remained on the job.

A suit filed in Redwood City by Daly City Atty. John Putkey on behalf of the Northgate Company, asked a restraining order be placed on Paniagua to remove him from the company's office effective 5 p.m., Aug. 8.

Judge Robert D. Miller issued the restraining order July 21 after being informed Paniagua allegedly failed to account for monies received and was unfit to run the bus system.

Fumes Injure 3 DC Firemen

Three Daly City firemen were hospitalized Saturday after they were exposed to sulfur dioxide fumes from a bomb-like cylinder found while fighting a grass fire in the Southern Hills section of the city.

Battalion Chief Lyle Church said the 22-inch by five-inch cylinder was found by firemen near an area that was once an army base on the lower north slope of San Bruno Mountain.

About 3:30 p.m. Saturday, firemen were called out to fight a grass fire — a suspected arson — on the dry, grassy hillside.

During mopping up operations, Fire Capt. Jack Winters and firemen Philip Holmes and Jack Poulos found the canister.

On lifting the unmarked cannister, it released a greenish vapor, dousing the three firemen with what later was determined to be sulfur dioxide.

Sulfur dioxide was used many years ago to recharge freezing systems in refrigerators.

It could not be determined, according to Acting Fire Chief Elwyn Greenstrand, if that is what the mystery cannister was intended for.

"We really don't know where it came from," Church said. "But (sulfur dioxide) is bad stuff."

All three firemen were reported in "very satisfactory" condition today at Mary's Help Hospital, where they are being kept for observation.

Three Daly City Youths Arrested

Beating at Serramonte

A Daly City man is in Mary's Help Hospital today suffering from a broken arm, cuts, abrasions and shock after three local youths beat him with a tire iron Monday morning.

Deno Valoras, 47, of Clarinada Street, was walking to work at the Serramonte Shopping Center about 9:30 a.m. when two youths accosted him on the street and asked for cigarettes, police said.

Valoras handed over a couple of cigarettes and started walking off, but one of the youths allegedly pulled out a tire iron and hit him in the arm.

A third youth jumped from a parked car and also began beating Valoras, police said.

After grabbing the victim's money and pushing him over a small hill that leads to the shopping complex parking lot, the trio jumped in a car and sped off, police report.

Daly City Director of Public Works Michael Sims, saw part of the incident and took down the license number of the suspect car before going to the aid of the victim, according to police.

At 1:30 p.m., Monday, police arrested a 15-year-old and two 16-year-old youths.

Two of the arrested are brothers. All live in Daly City, police said.

They were charged with assault with a deadly weapon and robbery and sent to Hillcrest Youth Guidance Center.

Council Studies New Fire Training Post

Creation of a high-level staff position in the Daly City Fire Department may be tabled temporarily pending further study by the City Council.

And the job could be filled by a woman, indications were at Monday's meeting of the council.

Attempts to establish the post of Fire Training Officer have met with some opposition from at least one councilman who wants the educational standards for the new job raised to include more college credits than the present duty statement demands.

Councilman William Schumacher also asked Acting Fire Chief Elwyn Greenstrand why the job could not be assigned to a fire officer already within the department, instead of making it a permanent post.

Greenstrand informed Schumacher it would be hard to get a qualified person to handle the task of training men and keeping up-to-date on the latest firefighting techniques unless there was the incentive of its being a permanent job.

Councilman McRobert Stewart agreed with Greenstrand, noting "permanence is needed (by the Fire Training Officer) to keep up with modern technology in the fire service."

The Daly City Fire Department now has some 80 personnel distributed among five fire stations.

Not only would the new officer be required to inspect various fire stations on a day-to-day basis, he (or she) would have to "spend a lot of time in school," Greenstrand said.

Schumacher made it clear from the outset of the discussion that the post might feasibly be filled by a woman.

He also said "I would like to see higher educational standards than the 16 units now called for."

Greenstrand argued that because of the shifts firemen are scheduled to work, it is difficult for them to attend college.

But the problem is not with the shifts firemen work, Schumacher said. Instead, "most have parttime jobs. That's the reason (they can't attend college)," he said.

Schumacher is a former police officer who attended college in his off-duty time, attaining his law degree after several years.

No 'Men' in Revised DC Occupation Titles

The days of the "water serviceman" in Daly City are gone, replaced by "meter readers."

Ditto "building maintenance man."

He has been replaced by "building maintenance worker."

In all, 16 job titles have been changed in Daly City because the Fair Employment Practices Commission determined them to be "institutionally discriminatory."

"Changing these titles must have been exhausting work for those people," Council person McRobert Stewart commented at Monday's study session of the City Council.

All titles containing the word "Man" in their discriptions — for example: "Fireman" — were determined to be "objectionable" to the FEPC and changed by the city's Personnel Commission.

From now on a person seeking employment cannot be discriminated against because of his (her's?) religious creed, race, age, color, national origin, ancestory, physical handicap or sex

Man Held In Death

A South San San Francisco man died Wednesday night after falling from a second floor balcony, and police say he was pushed.

The dead man was Howard E. Gibson, 46, 252 Grand Ave.

Arrested was Mariano John Melchiorre, 46, of 317 California Ave.

According to police, the two men apparently engaged in a scuffle and the victim was pushed over the railing, apparently sustaining head and chest injuries. Police gave no additional information.

South San Francisco Fire Department paramedics responded to the scene to find the victim on the ground, unconscious with shallow respiration.

They rushed him to Kaiser Hospital where he was pronounced dead, officials said.

Firemen Rescue 4 At Devil's Slide

Pacifica firefighters worked three hours Monday to rescue four men stranded on the beach at Devil's Slide on Highway One.

Four Livermore men were returning in their fishing boat from San Pedro Point to Half Moon Bay about 4 p.m. when a mishap occurred, said Dan Gadwah, Pacifica firefighter.

The fishing crew was changing gas lines on their 14-foot boat, said Gadwah, when the engine died. The men rowed the boat into shore but before they could get out of the boat, a larger wave whipped the side.

One man, David Freeman, 29, received lacerations to his head when the wave struck but saw a log burning on the beach and three of the men waited by the fire at the foot of the slide while the fourth fisherman, Jess Reed, climbed the 850 foot cliff and flagged down cars for help.

Gadwah said eight firefighters and one volunteer worked to bring the men up the cliff.

Only personal belongings in the boat were damaged. The boat may be salvaged, Gadwah said.

Also rescued were Brian Johnson, 27, and Paul Sengo 36

Esperanto Brings Cultures Together

By JANET PARKER

"Bonan tagon" is meaningless to most San Mateo County residents.

Some residents, however, would instantly counter the greeting with "Saluton!"

They are a small group who speak Esperanto, the international language nearly 100 years old.

Delegates to the Univer- sal Esperanto Association live in Millbrae, Burlingame, Hillsborough, San Mateo, Foster City, Daly City, Redwood City and Portola Valley.

A delegate must be fluent in the language and serve as host to Esperanto delegates from around the world.

Esperantists travel to international conferences, disseminate Esperanto literature, correspond with Esperantists throughout the world, and host Esperantists from other nations in their homes.

"It's a very simple language — very logical," says Minerva Rees, a Daly City woman who took her first Esperanto course in 1965 and began teaching it to children at Spring Valley School in Millbrae a year later.

"I see language as a barrier between people," she said. "Esperanto breaks down that barrier."

She has found Esperanto allows people of different nations to become more intimate more quickly.

The language itself is based on Latin roots. Nouns end in "o," adjectives in "a," present tense verbs in "as" with no exceptions.

Esperanto, its proponents say, is designed as a supplement to native languages. The word Esperanto means "one who is hoping."

"When people learn a second language," said Ms. Rees, "they never get down to using the language. With Esperanto you can start conversing seriously immediately."

"You find people are very much alike all over the world," she said. "They accept you on a one-to-one basis when they find you have a common language to speak."

"To me it is like a miracle to be able to converse with people of all nations," Ms. Rees said.

In 1969, she traveled to Europe visiting Esperantists in 15 different countries. Esperantists are located through the Universal Esperanto Association yearbook.

In September, she will travel to the People's Republic of China with laughed out," Roger O'Mara said.

Judges study general appearance, the dog's bite, shape of head, shape of eyes, uniformity, shoulder, legs, movement and many other factors.

"You show huskies just as they come into the world," O'Mara said. There's no alterations, such as the ear clipping of Boxers, Great Danes and Boston terriers.

Breeders, such as the O'Maras, study the dog's background, heredity, and genes in order to eliminate any faults and produce better dogs for show. In fact, each registered dog possesses an impressive family tree reaching back to its great-great grandparents.

They breed dogs to stay within show standards. If the dog is oversized, O'Mara said, the breeding program is wrong.

The O'Maras used to breed Boston Terriers but in 1968 bought Chinook as a present for their daughter Lida later was shipped for breeding from Maryland.

The handler, they say, undergoes training with the dog. Many handlers take their dogs to crowded shopping centers to help them adjust to people.

"You work together as a team," Roger O'Mara said.

The Siberian is a 2,000 year old breed noted for sled racing. The O'Maras have their own rig and race their dogs behind the Marine World grounds in Belmont.

The Siberian, Mrs. O'Mara said, is the strongest pulling breed in existence.

One time they took their dogs racing on the El Camino High School track.

"The dogs were way down the lower end and there were a few automobiles on the field," Roger O'Mara recalls. "An officer drove up and asked what we were doing. We told him we were racing sled dogs."

"He said, 'Sure, we get a lot of snow in South City.' " Roger remembers. The officer quickly apologized when he saw the dog team rounding the track heading straight toward him. In fact, a few joggers on the track couldn't keep up with the racing huskies who can run up to 35 miles an hour.

The O'Maras' dogs weigh between 45-55 pounds, and can pull more than 600 pounds.

"It's how much heart the dogs have. If you see a dog really straining you better call it off," O'Mara said.

A well-rounded "science diet" is the dogs' main course, although the owners confess to occasional treats, including chocolate candies.

The couple is beginning to save the soft white fur the dogs shed. Some Siberian huskie owners spin the fur for weaving. The O'Maras have five bags filled with the fuzzy mass.

The O'Maras are strong advocates of the leash law, firm proponents of intelligent breeding programs, and devout opponents of "puppy mills."

"We don't recommend anybody buy from pet stores," O'Mara said. The so-called puppy mills, he said, breed just to sell puppies by the truck load to the stores. Many of the dogs, they claim, are bloated with worms. Stores often won't provide pedigree and registration information at a buyer's request.

"We try to find out where the dogs are coming from. There's legislation now to put an end to puppy mills," O'Mara said.

A breeder, he said, always will provide a replacement or refund if anything is wrong with the dog.

And it's an old wives' tale, they say, that a bitch always should produce at least one litter of puppies.

"That's the worst reason in the world to breed dogs," said Mrs. O'Mara. Backyard breeders, she said, are the worst kind. Poodles and German Shepherds suffered deformities in the breed over the years because of casual breeding.

Bruno Mt.

Follett said Brisbane's "totally unstable political climate" and its attitude on school matters are such that Visitacion could never deal with them.

Schwarzbach, however, made it clear he was not easily sold on JESD involvement with the project.

"It's not quite all roses," the trustee said. "There has to be a tremendous amount of counter interpretation to convince me the benefit would be that great." He said the letter to the commission should be "extremely qualified."

Supt. Herbert Hemington will draft a letter for the trustees to review and approve at their meeting next Wednesday.

By Petrini's Presents

• BAYHILL JERRY'S SURPRISE •

(Please place your order in advance)

For an exotic and unusual taste treat, you'll really love this.

★ Our meat cutters will prepare this for you ★ One boneless leg of veal, 3½ to 4 lbs. ★ One boneless Club Pork Roast, 2 to 2½ lbs. ★ All in one easy slicing roll.

¼ cup cooking oil, ¼ cup dry sherry, 1½ tbls. lemon juice, 1 clove garlic crushed, ½ tsp. salt, ¼ tsp. pepper, ½ tsp. oregano and rosemary.

Combine cooking oil, sherry, lemon juice, garlic and spices and use for basting every 15 to 20 minutes. Roast in oven or on a rotisserie 3½ to 4 hours at 325° or until meat thermometer reaches 170°, be sure thermometer reaches the center of the roast, and does not touch rotisserie bar. When done, remove from oven wrap with foil and let stand 15 to 20 minutes. Unrap, slice and serve. Your guest will really rave! 6 to 9 servings.

Serve with a chilled Pinot Chardonari

Agencies Seek Volunteer Help

Friendly visitors, a receptionist and handymen are among the volunteer positions which need to be filled at the non-profit agencies who have requested help from the Volunteer Bureau-Voluntary Action Center of San Mateo County.

PLANNED PARENTHOOD — A variety of helpers needed including family planning counselors, who will be trained, clinic workers to assist at the San Mateo office in the daytime, and Thrift Shop volunteers to work in the store Tuesday through Saturday.

FRIENDLY VISITING — Persons who reside in the San Mateo area to visit the elderly on a one-to-one basis. Visits are made at the elderly's homes or at convalescent hospitals. Volunteers need to be able to provide companionship and caring.

PARENTAL STRESS HOTLINE — Persons to man a hotline starting September that will offer the opportunity for parents under stress to call and talk to trained people. Potential volunteers must attend 20 hours of training and make a one-year commitment. A training session is scheduled for mid-August.

HOOVER SCHOOL, BURLINGAME — Aides to work Wednesday nights and Saturdays with a parents group on the construction of a new playground. Persons skilled in construction as well as those who are unskilled but willing to haul dirt, etc. are needed.

SAN MATEO COUNTY HISTORICAL MUSEUM — A receptionist to greet people, answer telephones, and do some light typing if desired. The museum is convenient to public transportation.

LUSTER ENTERPRISES — Telephone assistants and general office workers to help the organization which provides respite care for the elderly and disabled.

High school students in the San Mateo Union High School District may register for summer School-Community Service volunteer positions in camps working with the handicapped and nonprofit agencies. Students may contact their school-community service coordinator or the Volunteer Bureau.

The Volunteer Bureau is located at 119 Primrose Road, Burlingame, and is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

A branch office is located at Ampex Bldg. 2, 940 Douglas Rd., Redwood City. Office hours are 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Monday through Friday.

A project of the Assistance League of San Mateo County, the bureau shares in the United Way of the Bay Area.

The Recorder-Progress Wins 1st Place Award!

The California Newspaper Publishers Association awarded 1st Place for "Best Typography" to the Recorder-Progress in The Association's 1974 Better Newspaper Contest. The competition category for the award was among weekly newspapers with over 7,500 circulation.

Factors considered in the "Best Typography" judging were: The efficient use of type faces and intermix of type size in headlines and body copy; the effective use of art and illustrations and their relation to typography; the use or lack of use of borders, ornaments or other units; the general makeup and layout of the typography throughout the paper.

This award marks the fourth time the Recorder-Progress has been distinguished in State-wide competition with either a first or second place award, during the past three years. Awards have been presented by the California Newspaper Publishers Association and the California Newspaper Advertising Executives Association. The Recorder-Progress is published in conjunction with the San Bruno Herald and the Coastside Chronicle.

New SSF Department Proposed

A new Department of Community Services, which in actuality is an enlarged Parks and Recreation Department, is being proposed by South San Francisco City Manager Ed Alario.

"The conceptual premise for a Department of Community Services is to coordinate and combine all those "non-line" city services that are geared to satisfy the cultural, leisure and social needs of our citizens," according to Alario.

His proposal is scheduled to go before the city council at its first meeting in August.

Alario's proposal is spelled out in a July 18 memorandum to the Library Board and Park and Recreation Commission. These two departments would be consolidated under one administration. According to the memo, no new positions or downgrading of pay categories will occur.

The Department of Community services, as envisioned by Alario, would incorporate the divisions of parks, common greens, recreation, marina, library and Information and Referral Center.

"Various benefits can be anticipated from this action as experienced with the Departments of Public Services and Administrative Services," claims Alario's memo.

Administrative and procedural matters , he said, can receive additional attention by qualified staff members, the library administrator, the department head and the department's administrative assistant.

He said the library would have the advantage of two staff members instead of one, and that the library services and facilities could be expanded and more completely integrated with other recreational activities.

"In essence, the Department of Community Services will be the Department of Parks and Recreation, incorporating the Library as a division," states Alario's memo.

It also notes that the city only recently became the fiscal agent for the South San Francisco Information and Referral Center and the Director of Parks and Recreation designated as its staff liaison.

To justify his proposal, Alario cites reorganization of the Department of Public Services and the Department of Administrative Services as improving administrative coordinations and giving better services to the public.

"The (reorganized) departments have been operating successfully and continue to improve," states the memo.

Planner Okay Pacifica Townhouses

Pacifica City Council last week gave the go-ahead for a 46-unit townhouse project on 7.49 acres of hillside property of Fassler Avenue across from Crespi School.

Kay Homes is planning to construct the two-bedroom townhouses, some with den, in eight building groups.

Council action specifically reclassified the property from garden apartment use to a planned development district.

The city's Hillside Preservation Review Board and planning commission earlier had recommended approval of the project, which also will include carports and recreation facilities.

The proposal is a new submittal on the parcel which had two previous plans before the city. One of those was withdrawn and the other denied.

In other business, the council:

- Tabled action on the intent to establish and maintain a refuse disposal site within the city pending outcome of the county's preliminary waste management plan that has to be ratified by a majority of the cities having a majority of the county's population.
- Responded to a letter from the San Francisco Planning Commission in which that body sought Pacifica's support for the extension of BART to Santa Clara County by saying the council's intent is to support the San Mateo County Transit District.
- Approved a $1,474 expenditure as the city's share in Stanford Research Institute study on the feasibility of consolidating North County fire communications.
- Introduced an ordinance to require the posting of prices at gas stations.
- Adopted language for a ballot measure on the March 1976 council election regarding beach cleaning. It reads: "Shall the City Council of the City of Pacifica be authorized to establish an additional tax rate not to exceed 10 cents for the cleaning, maintenance and development of ocean beaches located within the City of Pacifica until the state assumes this responsibility?"

Food Nowadays Just Another 4-Letter Word

Samuel Chandler

Surviving The Danger

Nowadays food is just another four-letter word. If you have read a newspaper, watched television or listened to the radio during the past few years, you are aware that food is dangerous to your health. It is smothered in pesticides, injected with hormones and enriched with various chemicals and preservatives.

If we survive these dangers, we are confronted with cholesterol, calories, carbohydrates and all those strange sounding things that cause high blood pressure, heart disease, dental caries, obesity, and who knows what ills.

Not only is food unhealthy, it is boring. "And why is that?" You may very well ask. When even the highest priced restaurant in town is serving pre-processed frozen dinners, and the only alternative is the fast food franchise down the street, it may occur to you that a high percentage of restaurant food is being created by computer.

But we humans are a hearty lot and we will continue to eat in the face of adversity. In times of crisis, a leader always seems to emerge.

This time he has arrived in the person of Calvin Trillin, who will guide us in finding the way to pleasure in foodland once again.

THE GOSPEL according to Trillin, appears in his book American Fried: Adventures of a Happy Eater," a book which fairly reeks of frying fat and which could possibly give the unwary reader a case of psychosomatic heartburn. Not all of us possess the bottomless, cast iron stomach of Trillin, but what a joy to join him on his forays across the country, searching out and sampling the best food it has to offer.

Trillin is no slouch in matters of food. He likes everything as long as it tastes good. And as he points out, research on eating preferences indicates that a person who has few or no food hangups tends to have a mature outlook, a balanced personality and a logical mind. "So much for people who do not like Beef Wellington and barbecued spareribs."

A native of Kansas City, Trillin dwells on the goodies to be found in his home town, from the hamburgers at Winstead's Drive-in and the barbecued ribs at Arthur Bryant's to the chile dogs at Kresge's. He does acknowledge, however, that a lot of otherwise sensible adults suffer from an incurable hometown food nostalgia.

Trillin's criterion for the goodness of food can perhaps be summed up in his attitude toward restaurant criticism. "Whenever a reviewer starts explaining how the preparation of quiche Lorraine at the restaurant he has visited differs from the way one prepares a true quiche Lorraine," Trillin is apt to shout, "But did you like it? Did it make you happy? Did you clean your plate?"

ALTHOUGH HE knows there is great food to be discovered out there, Trillin has no sure-fire method of finding it. On the other hand, he does offer advice on avoiding bad food. For instance, never eat in a restaurant that revolves, nor in one recommended by the Chamber of Commerce, nor in any restaurant with a name faintly resembling La Maison de la Casa House, Continental Cuisine.

So armed with Calvin Trillin's research techniques and the antacid of your choice, you too may once again face food with pleasure and joy. Be adventurous, seek out the real, the true and the delicious. The world's best food may be somewhere in your neighborhood.

And take with you these final words of wisdom. "Anything consumed while you're standing up has fewer calories in it than it would if it were consumed while you were sitting down."

GIRL SCOUTING

AIDES for the Daly City Girl Scout Day Camp at Junipero Serra Park in San Bruno, Aug. 4-14 are being assigned directly to the units for pixies, Brownies and Junior Girl Scouts, according to Day Camp Director Mrs. Carole Ann Scott.

Older Scout aides include Kathy Chiappari, Cheryl Figone, Sandy Freitas, Diana Law, Darlene Rusting, Michelle Scott, Lori Golden, Deborah Swain, Ellen and Diane Ridge, Leana Medina, Marian Fitzpatrick, Patty Martin, Vicky Morino, Susan Hall, Kimberly Gustofson and Kathryn Hansel.

The aid-in-training unit of Cadettes and younger Senior Scouts will include Jacqlyn Bender, Cheryl Freitas, Carol Hall, Shelley Morris, Michelle Rushton, Sharon Scott, Liane Knox, Kathy Bolton and Julie Savignano.

The Pixie unit will include young children of the Day Camp volunteer staff: Kianga Crittle, Robin O'Connor, Guy Ramos, Lydia Ruggiero, Blaine Sullivan, Mark Rutherford and Samantha Van Assendelft.

The celebration of Girl Scouting, scheduled for April 3 and 4, 1976 at the Serramonte Shopping Center Mall, is expected to draw troops from all of Northern San Mateo and San Francisco counties.

JUNIOR Girl Scout troop 2855 recently toured Marine World on Girl Scout Day.

The troop is led by Mrs. Sue Freitas and Mrs. Annette Chiappari.

Sheri and Terri Brandt, Virginia Chiappari, Rene' Cox, Tina Freitas, Dawn Hertogs, Marilyn LeBlanc, Julie Lopez, Lisa Marren, Lee Ann and Danielle Rankin, Maria Rodriguez, Tina Smith, Fatima Solorzano, Kim and Sandy Terrell and Linda Zarubin are active troop members.

DURING Daly City Day Camp, now in progress, Daly City Girl Scout Association patches will be sold for 75 cents each through Mary Ann Dale.

All profits benefit Daly City Wider Opportunity Scouts.

"HOW THE DALY FAMILY spent the San Francisco earthquake of 1906," colonial pottery and corn husk dolls are a few ideas for SCOUT AMERICA '76 booths already submitted, according to General Chairman Alvin L. Schwarzbach.

DC Man Is New Manager

Nor-Cal Security, Rialto Building, San Francisco announced, Michael Lawlor joined its staff as operations manager this week.

Lawlor has been chief of security at Cow Palace since 1970.

His experience there gives him unique ability to handle security problems.

He will be in charge of the uniformed guard service at Nor-Cal.

He is a resident of Daly City, is married and has two daughters.

IT'S YOUR MONEY

Q: I'd like to join the Foster Grandparent program and work with retarded children. I would earn $32 a week. Would that extra money be taken off my social security check or my supplemental security income check?

A. No. Income you receive as a Foster Grandparent would not affect your social security or supplemental security income payments.

Answers provided by Miss Margaret Tang, Manager Social Security Office.

B'nai Israel Sets Weekend Services

Sabbath Services will be observed at Congregation B'nai Israel, 1575 Annie St., Daly City, on Friday at 8:30 p.m.

Services will be led by Rabbi Ira Book and Cantor Jacob Graudenz will chant the liturgy.

As part of the service, dedication of the Torah Mantle and Schulchan cover in memory of Arthur LaPedis will be observed.

The mantle will be used at appointed periods during the year to cover the Holy Scrolls. These Scrolls, the Torah, are written in ancient Hebrew, by a scribe, using a quill pen and a specially formulated vegetable ink. Portions are read from the Torah every Saturday morning and on Holy Days.

At the conclusion of the service, an Oneg Shabbat social hour will follow.

On Shabbat morning, Saturday, 10 a.m., Alan Steinberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Steinberg, will observe his Bar Mitzvah.

Services for this Shabbat morning will be conducted by Book and Graudenz.

Alan, who has reached maturity in the eyes of the synagogue, can now take his place as an adult member of the congregation. He will read blessings, prayers and chant the Haftorah, an accompanying work to the Torah Reading.

Marking this special day in his life, he will be presented with a certificate of Bar Metzvah by Rabbi Book, a prayer book by Congregation President, George Bilick, and a ritual Kiddush Cup by a representative of the Sisterhood. Prayer book also will be donated to the congregation in his honor by a representative of the Men's Club.

A Kiddush hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Steinberg will follow the Saturday morning service.

Religious Class Set

Congregation Beth Israel-Judea is now enrolling children in both Hebrew and Religious School.

The temple offers a varied program for youngsters ages 4 through 17.

It's Inexpensive, But Attractive

Good morning, good cooks.

We are all interested in serving meals that are attractive, delicious and inexpensive, but it is difficult to find dishes that combine all these appealing qualities. So it's a pleasure to offer a recipe that fills this bill.

CORNED BEEF WHEELS

½ cup finely chopped onion
½ cup (4-oz. can) drained mushroom stems and pieces
3 Tablespoons butter
¾ cup dairy sour cream
1 can (12-oz.) corned beef, finely chopped
¾ cup tomato soup (reserve remainder for sauce)
1 Tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

Saute the half cup each chopped onion and mushrooms in the three tablespoons butter. Reserve ¼ cup.

To the remaining sauteed vegetables add the one-third cup sour cream, ten ounces corned beef, one-third cup tomato soup and one tablespoon Worcestershire sauce. Blend well. Remove from heat and chill while making biscuits.

CARAWAY BISCUITS

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon dry mustard
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter
1 unbeaten egg
2 teaspoons caraway seed
¼ cup milk

In a large mixing bowl, sift the 2 cups flour, three teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon dry mustard and one-half teaspoon salt. Cut in the one cube butter until particles are fine. Add the egg, two teaspoons caraway seed and the fourth cup milk. Stir until dough clings together.

Roll out on floured waxed paper to a 14x12-inch rectangle. Spread with the chilled filling. Roll up, starting with the 14-inch side; seal edge. Cut into 12 slices. Place in a greased 8x12-inch baking dish and bake in 425-degree oven for 25 to 30 minutes. Serve hot topped with sauce.

SAUCE

1 cup dairy sour cream
the reserved tomato soup
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
the reserved onion-mushroom mixture

In top of double boiler combine the one cup sour cream, tomato soup, half teaspoon salt, eighth teaspoon pepper and onion-mushrooms. Heat thoroughly over boiling water. If too thick, thin with milk.

Arts, Crafts Show Set At Serramonte Center

Paintings, sculpture and art-in-action will be the exciting program at Serramonte Shopping Center where an arts and crafts show featuring more than 80 professional artists will be held on Thursday through Sunday.

The works of such well known painters as Joan Graber, Paul Moon, Kay Kettle, Fred and Jeanne Colbus and Mary Cardin will be part of the show.

Keith Kreitter will demonstrate the art of glass blowing.

Also included in the four day show will be the New Zealander John Checkley who enjoys a reputation for his watercolors portraying the San Francisco Bay Area.

Other artists will be Inge Saastad, seascapes; Nachi Nelson, Oriental paintings; Galen Hedin, metal sculpture; Rick Petteford and Mel Kunichiro, ceramics; Lars Hawkes, serigraphs; and George Anderson, abstracts.

The show is being sponsored by Art Ventures of Redwood City and is free to the public.

Margaret Kanner is the chairwoman.

Hours are 9:30 a.m.-9:30 p.m. weekdays, 9:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Serramonte Center is located on Highway 280 at Serramonte Blvd. in Daly City.

Last Chance To Enter Contest

Last chance, coming up, for lovely young Latin American lasses to enter the annual Queen Isabella III contest!

Nemer Gonzalez, chairman of the contest and coronation ball, sponsored by the Holy Angels Latin Club, reminds that this Sunday, following the 10 a.m. mass, will be in the parish home to accept entries. The sale of votes and tickets will be getting underway immediately and the winner of the sales contest will be crowned the queen of the ball Sept. 6.

All the entrants will be presented to the community at the ball prior to the naming of the Queen and her court, Gonzalez explained.

SONS OF ITALY HALL in San Francisco will be the site of the festive gathering of Balboa High School graduates on Saturday evening.

Patty Baumgartner, 334-0827, is accepting calls for reservations to the reunion of the class of Spring, 1963.

For information about the party, call Miss Baumgartner today!

MEMBERS OF THE Daly City Friends of the Library have been informated that the next book fair will be held of Sept. 27.

Mrs. Denise Schwarzbach, the book fair chairman, reports that the tentative date has been selected and she is in need of workers to help price and sort books.

The committee is asking for contributions from the Daly City community of books records, and sheet music. For details about contributing to the fair or helping with the work call Mrs. Schwarzbach, 756-5324, or Mrs. Virginia Tierney, 992-3453.

Working with the chairman are Mrs. Tierney, assistant chairman and director of publicity; Mrs. Ruth Giammona, pricing; Ray Schnapp, Sr., transportation; and Mrs. Virginia Nowicki, Mrs. Marilyn Bagnall and Phil Newman, pricing committee members.

Louanne Heath

ONE HUNDRED CHILDREN, accompanied by 20 to 30 mothers and a staff of volunteer workers, are preparing to depart for the Mt. Cross Camp in Santa Cruz mountains for the annual family camp sponsored by the Friends Outside bay area chapter.

Mrs. Rudy Enberg of South San Francisco, the group's executive director, reports that there was a good response to the appeal for sleeping bags, towels and toiletries and all the camp participants will be heading for their exciting outting fully equipped to face the rugged out of doors.

TUESDAY MORNING at 10, the members of the Fifty-Plus Club of Pacifica will meet in the Pacifica Public library, Hilton Lane at Palmetto Avenue.

Of special interest at this particular meeting will be the discussion of an offer to expand the meeting schedule so that more members may be able to take an active part in club programs.

Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan has suggested that persons not able to attend the gathering held on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month might find it more convenient to meet in her home on a Saturday afternoon or on some evening.

Members who are interested in expanding the meeting schedule may discuss the possibility at the meeting Tuesday or they may call Mrs. Calhan, 334-4757.

Don Castro Beach Trips

Daly City playground youngsters will have a chance to frolic in the sun at Don Castro Recreation Area.

Don Castro is operated by the East Bay Regional Park District and is located just east of Castro Valley.

The trip will be from Aug. 12-14.

Don Castro Recreation Area features a large beach and swimming area, grassy picnic areas, fishing spots, hiking trails and concession stands.

Youngsters of 7 years and older may sign up for this trip at their local playground or park.

The cost is $2 for all participants.

The cost covers admission, transportation and trip insurance.

Sign ups must be made at least two days in advance.

The Playground schedule for Don Castro Recreation Area is as follows:

Aug. 12 — Gellert Park, Serramonte High School, Palisades Park, Vista Mar School, Our Lady of Mercy School, and Westlake Park.

Aug. 13 — Skyline School, F.D. Roosevelt, Northridge Park, M. P. Brown, Daniel Webster School, and Westmoor Park.

Aug. 14 — Robertson School, Panorama School, George Washington School, Lincoln Park, Colma School, Marchbanks Park and the War Memorial Community Center.

All interested youngsters should contact their local playground leader for details of this and other summer activities.

DC Retired Club to Hear Joe Carcione

The Daly City Area Chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) will meet at 11:30 a.m., Aug. 11 at the Westlake Community Center, 145 Lake Merced Blvd., Daly City.

Members are requested to bring a bag lunch and coffee and snack will be available for a donation of 25 cents during the social hour preceding the meeting.

The speaker will be Joe Carcione "Your Green Grocer," popular television and radio personality.

Residents 55 years of age or older of Daly City, Colma, Pacifica and South San Francisco may attend.

Local Counselors Attend Conference

Reference A were among the group of 55 counselors and four recruiters from the San Francisco Navy Recruiting District who attended the Navy's "Training for Opportunity" conference in San Diego.

The conference, sponsored by Commander Training Command, was held July 16-19.

As guests of Rear Admiral Allen E. Hill, commander of the United States Pacific Fleet's Training Command, the 55 counselors got a first-hand look at the Navy's recruit training, vocational instruction and management orientation programs.

The three day conference also provided the counselors with tours of a number of the Navy's schools, a look at recruit's barracks and graduation ceremonies, and a sample of shipboard life with a visit to the USS Dixon, a submarine tender, and the USS Jason, a repair ship.

The counselors were informed of the opportunities offered by the Navy to its' members and the schools and training provided to make those opportunities happen.

They also received first-hand information on the teaching techniques used by the Navy to prepare men and women for careers both ashore and afloat.

The "Training for Opportunity" conferences are part of a continuing program instituted by the Navy to assist and acquaint educators, counselors and others involved with advising today's youth on career directions.

Attending the conference were:

Frank Lawler, assistant principal, Oceana High School; Pablo T. Perez, assistant principal, Westmoor High School; Albert F. Nuti, Woodrow Wilson High School; Joseph Conway, principal, Oceana High School; James C. Wyatt, dean of students, Skyline College; Frank A. Terranova, assistant principal, Ocean High School; Stanley E. Graubert, Skyline College; Walter Gloistein Jr., assistant principal, Westmoor High School; Phillip Capitolo, assistant principal, Terra Nova High School.

Weddings And Engagements

(Coleman Photo)

SANCTS-ROLAND

Pictured after their wedding at the Church of the Immaculate Heart of Mary in Belmont are Robert E. Roland Jr. and his bride, the former Darleen J. Sancts. The newlyweds honeymooned in Los Angeles and are living now in Belmont. The bride is the daughter of A. Jan Sancts of Daly City, and the bridegroom is the son of Mercedes Roland of San Francisco.

County Residents Exchange Vows

South San Francisco is the first address for Mr. and Mrs. Bob Green (Marnie Strohmaier), who were married at St. Veronica's Catholic Church in that city. The Rev. Daniel Derry officiated.

Marnie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Strohmaier of San Carlos, who hosted a reception after the rites at the South San Francisco Elks Lodge.

Bob's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Green of South San Francisco, who celebrated their 33rd wedding anniversary the day of the marriage.

Margita Nordstrom served as the maid of honor, and bridesmaids included Dorothy Green, sister of the bridegroom. Jane Strohmaier, sister-in-law of the bride, Janet Ingersoll, Maggie Rudd and Carol Lamerdin.

Mary Karin Green was the flower girl for her uncle's wedding.

Bob asked his oldest brother, Bill Green, to be the best man. His other brothers, Ray, Jim and Ed Green, shared ushering duties with Mark Strohmaier, brother of the bride, and Brad Ingersoll.

The newlyweds, who are both El Camino High School graduates, honeymooned in Hawaii.

Wertz-Short Rites In Chico Garden

The garden of the Chico home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Spiker was the setting for the marriage of Patricia Ann Wertz and Michael Anthony Short.

The Rev. Wendell Pew performed the poolside ceremony for the daughter of Mrs. Nona Vay Wertz of Burlingame and Donald L. Wertz of Rancho Cordova, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Short of San Bruno. The bride is the stepdaughter of Rosalie M. Wertz.

The newlyweds greeted guests after the rites at a reception at the same site. They are now making their first home in San Bruno.

Patricia said her vows in a floor length white satin gown with lace detailing. A floor length violet gown was chosen by her maid of honor, Kim Spiker, and pastel gowns were selected by bridesmaids Beth Fuller, Jan Matulich, Kim Caruso, Joanne Stalder and Gloria Garcia.

Stacy Hall and Stephen Hall were the flower girl and ring bearer for their stepsister's wedding.

Best man duties were performed by Bill Carlson, and ushers included Craig Knack, Gary Lynch, Phil Madsen, Tim McCloy and Mike Kasack.

The new Mrs. Short is an Aragon High School graduate.

The bridegroom, who was graduated from Oceana High School, is employed in San Mateo. He has a sister, Michelle Short of Pacifica.

Helbush-Neighbor Millbrae Nuptials

The Millbrae home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Helbush was the setting Saturday afternoon for the marriage of their daughter, Linda Marie, and the Rev. David John Neighbor, son of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Neighbor of San Ramon.

The Rev. Melvin Johnson officiated at the 1 p.m. ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Helbush home. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Linda was married in a white gown with Venice lace with tiny ruching at the neck and cuffs. Lace flowers adorned the bodice and train. The bride carried gardenias with baby's breath and white rosebuds.

Mrs. John Swee of San Francisco was matron of honor and Liliana Yasky served as the bridesmaid. They wore sleeveless, caped dresses of cream jersey with pink and yellow roses and carried wildflowers and baby's breath.

Linda attended the University of Santa Clara and is a senior of Bethany Bible College in Santa Cruz where her husband is dean of men.

The bridegroom has one brother, James A. Neighbor of Washington.

FLOTILLA LEADER

Bob Walton, newly elected commander of Flotilla 15, Oyster Point, South San Francisco, U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, was sworn into office in recent ceremonies.

DC Officer Wounds Suspect

A Daly City policeman shot and wounded an alleged burglar at the Crown Colony apartment complex shortly after 3 p.m. Wednesday.

Detectives Ken Cole and John Kirby were on a stakeout detail in the apartment area, near Serramonte Shopping Center, when they allegedly saw a man and woman loading a car with household items.

As the officers approached the car, the driver gunned the engine and tried to run them down, police charge.

Both officers fired one shot at the car, it was learned.

One slug passed through the driver's side of the car and struck Donald Ray Smith, 22, of San Francisco, in the left leg.

Arrested and charged with burglary was Smith, and a female companion, Shirley Lynette Blankenship, 22, also of San Francisco.

Smith was sent to Chope Community Hospital for treatment under police guard.

A police department spokesman said a stakeout of the area had been ordered after seven daylight burglaries were committed in the complex in a six-day period.

Slaying

Theater when he spotted a man and woman "wrestling" in the parking lot about 4:30 p.m.

The man, whom he said he later picked out of a police lineup in Redwood City, was Post.

After covering the woman's mouth with his hand, the assailant pushed her into an orange and black sports car and sped off, he said.

He did not think much of it at the time.

"I thought it was just a man-and-wife thing," the youth said.

I was not until several days later, when he read of the parking lot incident in the newspapers and of finding the victim's body that he came forward, he said.

Defense Atty. William Greenspan's questioning of the youth as to whether he knew the difference between "a lie and a fib" was cut short by Judge de Larios, who said the court was convinced the boy was an acceptable witness in the case.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Jeff Boyansky first put Dr. Arthur Lack Jr., San Mateo County forensic pathologist, on the stand.

Dr. Lack, who said he had participated in more than 10,000 autopsies since beginning his careeer in 1946, told the court it had been difficult to establish the exact time Miss Wilhelmsen died because of what he called "a biological phenomenon."

This "phenomenon" apparently was brought about by climatic conditions in the area where the victim's body was dumped, near Black Mountain Road in the Crystal Springs area.

County Receives Plan On Disabled Assistance

The San Mateo County Board of Supervisors will be taking a new look at plans to aid the disabled.

A comprehensive plan to aid the developmentally disabled through early identification, training, rehabilitation, plus efforts aimed at preventing disability, has been submitted to the supervisors by the San Mateo County Coordinating Council on Developmental Disabilities.

The plan is entitled, "Developmental Disabilities Plan for San Mateo County 1976-77." It spells out present and future needs of the disabled children and adults in this county.

The coordinating council which prepared the plan is an autonomous agency advisory and responsible directly to the board of supervisors. It is required under the federal Lanterman Act to prepare and submit such studies which ultimately would be compiled into a state master plan.

The local plan recommends establishment of a program to identify the disabled aimed at preventing disabilities where possible. The earlier a disability is recognized, the better the opportunity for necessary correction and training.

The San Mateo County Department of Health and Welfare is urged to provide data listing and identifying the number of disabled people it serves through its many divisions including Chope Community Hospital.

Other recommendations deal with provision of more community care facilities, increased public education in the problem of the disabled, transportation, expansion of recreational and rehabilitational programs. It cites the need of providing potential parents with pre-natal and post-natal information aimed at preventing disabilities where possible. In addition establishment of day care centers for disabled children of working parents is emphasized as a key need.

Mrs. Elsie Vickery, president of the San Mateo Coordinating Council on Developmental Disabilities, explains ultimately all such plans are expected to incorporate into a statewide master plan to help the disabled.

Easy Street Trial Order

The owner of a San Mateo hardcore movie theater and three of his women employes — all of whom face various vice charges — have been ordered to stand trial in South San Francisco's Northern District Municipal Court.

The four defendants are from Easy Street Theater which offers patrons expensive soft drinks, hardcore movies and "rap sessions" with women employes.

Police have raided the theater on So. El Camino Real several times during recent years.

Theater owner Galen Randolph is presently charged with running a house of ill repute stemming from one of the most recent police raids seven months ago in which three women employes were arrested on prostitution charges.

All of the defendant's trials were ordered transferred from San Mateo's Central District Municipal Court after defense lawyers won a request for a change of venue.

Judge Alan W. Haverty Monday ordered Randolph to appear in Northern District Court Oct. 29 at 9 a.m.

This is the second time Randolph has stood trial on charges of running a house of ill repute. Randolph was found guilty of the first charge March 12 in Central District Court. He was fined $500 and placed on probation.

Judge Haverty also ordered the three women defendants to appear in Northern District Court Oct. 15 at 9 a.m. on the prostitution charges. The three women are: Barbara A. Peora, 21, Daly City, Paula D. Chatterton, 20, San Mateo, and Elaine M. Mogan, 19, Millbrae.

Robbery Suspect Holds Off Police

The 12-year-old boy who walked into Moon's Grocery store at 202 School St., in Daly City, Saturday afternoon was pretty mixed up, Daly City police agree.

First, the gangling 5'11", 155-pound youth pulled a knife and tried to rob store manager Vincent Lew.

Instead of handing over his money as the boy allegedly ordered, Lew ran shouting to the back of the store.

The would-be robber ran out the front door and down a railroad siding.

It was at this point that police cornered him.

But the boy refused to surrender.

Instead he took the knife and pressed it against his chest, threatening to commit suicide if police approached.

Police Sgt. Ralph Warren and Officer Dennis Pinnatore talked to the youth for several minutes before he dropped the knife and surrendered, police said.

He was booked into Hillcrest Youth Guidance Center.

Peninsulan Wed In Marin County

Honolulu and Maui are on the honeymoon itinerary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phelps (Suzanne L. Straus) who exchanged vows Sunday at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Belvedere.

The Rev. John Thornton performed the 1 p.m. ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Straus, who recently moved to Walnut Creek from New York, and the son of Mrs. Roy Phelps of Daly City.

The newlyweds greeted well-wishers after the rites in the reception hall and courtyard adjoining the church.

Suzanne, who was given in marriage by her parents, said her promises in a white organza gown accented with Venise lace, a high neckline, a sheer bodice and ruffled cap sleeves.

Matching lace detailed the bride's elbow length veil. She carried a bouquet of yellow baby roses interspersed with white stephanotis and baby's breath.

Baseball Has Suffered Most

There is no use denying that of the three so-called major spectator sports in this country, baseball is the one to have suffered most in the reduction of talent level.

The two most obvious reasons for this are expansion, which has caused a demand for one-third more talent than was needed 15 years ago, and the proliferation of other professional sports, which has further cut into a talent market which was once almost exclusively baseball's. One might argue that baseball, on the other hand, takes potential greats away from basketball and football, for example. But the point is that football and basketball, being relative newcomers to the world of professional sports, always have had this talent competition, and there's no basis for comparison of the talent of the "good old days." For those sports, there never were "good old days," -- at least not in the sense that baseball knew them.

But there is a third, at least ancillary reason for the efficienty drop in baseball at the major league level. We use the term "ancillary" because the third reason is tied in with the fact of the other sports' development. Not only are players now force-fed into the majors before many of them are physiologically, psychologically or technically prepared, but many of them simply don't even like the game that much or are not dedicated to it.

AND NO WONDER. With so many other sports given so much exposure, kids nowadays seldom "specialize" in one sport. Instead, they dabble in them all. Unless they're geniuses, it rarely allows them to really learn the nuances of any one game to the point they might someday be considered expert. Baseball suffers most in this case, because (call us a baseball chauvinist if you will) baseball requires more concentration and depends less on pure instinct than any of the other professional sports.

Gone are the days when a boy literally ate, slept and drank baseball. Gone are the days when baseball coaches (as they did in some secondary schools) insisted that if a boy was to play baseball for him, he had better not go out for football. Old-timers say that young players no longer sit around lobbies and talk baseball, and lobby sitting with old-timers was how young players learned much about the game. Old-timers blame such factors as the youngsters nowadays being businessmen, etc. But one of the big reasons is that today's k'ds never sat around and talked baseball that much as youths, because they were also talking football and basketball, tennis, hockey, or watching television.

A local case in point that comes to mind is Kenny Smith, the Jefferson High grad who three years ago snubbed a pro offer from the Dodgers to attend San Diego State. He had several good reasons. One was that he was drafted low and probably wouldn't have gotten a "fair" offer from the Dodgers; another was that he wanted an education; and a third, unstated if hinted reason, was that he really wanted to play basketball, a fact now borne out, because he has quit baseball at San Diego to concentrate at basketball. (Of course, one of the reasons why he was drafted on the 25th round was because the Dodgers knew of his proclivity for basketball.)

SMITH WAS a great prep basketball player. He is one of only three Jeff players to have had his basketball number retired, a great defensive player who still holds many school scoring records, and who participated in the North-South All Star prep classic. But most veteran observers believed -- and still believe -- that baseball is Smith's sport.

With relatively little actual game experience, Smith led the North Peninsula League in hitting in his senior year, and included in his repertoire some of the longest smashes ever seen in this area. At 6-5 and 200 pounds plus, with strength and quickness, most experts believed that Smith's future was much brighter in pro baseball than in pro basketball.

One scout said of Smith at that time, "You know, baseball takes more concentration than football or basketball, and Kenny isn't going to reach full potential until he can offer baseball that concentration."

At that time Smith was firmly convinced that basketball was "his sport," in the sense that it was the sport which really had given him the opportunity for college, and also because he freely admitted that it was his favorite sport. But he also felt, he said, that if he ever were to become a professional athlete, that it would be baseball which would get him there, because, he told us, "It's my strongest game."

But Smith also admitted what had been said about him of a local baseballman -- that he was unwilling to work hard at the game. He in fact admitted, "I don't like to practice -- except hit."

Thus, baseball has possibly lost a great player.

ALMOST FIVE MONTHS ago to the day, we did a column on Glen Haas, the former Mission High soccer coaching great who was honored at the annual Mission High Athletic Alumni banquet. We talked of his premature retirement at age 58 because of cancer, and how he had fought back and was still going strong at age 75, and also of his life-long loyalty to Mission High School.

Glen, or Fritz, as he was known to his real buddies, finally gave in to the insidious disease last week, but he kept in character to the very end. One of his last wishes was that any donations be sent to the Glen Haas Mission High Scholarship Fund, which has been established at the banquet in his honor. THAT, friends, is a genuine dedicated teacher.

Friends of Haas, and there are many, may mail checks to Bil Mustanich, Mission High School, 701 Frederick St., S.F., 94117.

Road-e-o Set For School

M. Pauline Brown Playground will hold its first annual Bike Road-e-o, on Aug. 14 from 1-5 p.m.

The Road-e-o offers children a chance to demonstrate their talents at bicycling by maneuvering their bikes through a series of skill tests.

Police cadets will be on hand to inspect the bikes for safe driving and licensing.

A bike license cost $1 and is mandatory to enter this contest.

Any child 6-13 years may participate.

Bring your bike and something to barbecue.

Call the recreation office at 992-5356 or see Recreation Leader Lin Winetrub at M. P. Brown for more details.

Pacifica Bowler Sam Fox

He 'Grew Up Fast' With Federales

By DICK DRAPER
Post Sports Writer

Varmints skittered into the mesquite bushes, small birds sought sanctuary in the cradling arms of giant saguaros and lizards dug tiny, hurried, bid-for-freedom tracks in the loose desert gravel as Sam Fox's rifle shot pinged off a Mexicali rock.

That was fun. It was what Fox needed. He was outdoors, carefree, sucking in the warm May breezes of Baja California, with thoughts of 60-foot-long polished lanes and wooden soldiers of fortune called bowling pins light years away.

In less than three weeks, the Pacifica resident would start his first full year on the Professional Bowlers Association tournament circuit, and he shot at crows, a couple of wild-eyed, scrawny dogs and other desert denizens with his nephew and a friend in a last fling at life unencumbered by 7-10 splits, open frames and the nerve-racking numbers game of big-time bowling.

But Fox was not to roll a PBA ball in that summer of 1974.

The Federales spied the trio, and within hours Fox had been booked for illegal hunting and dumped in a federal pen, had digested barely edible beans and fleetingly wondered when he would be shackled, blindfolded, given a final drag on a cigarette and have his life blown away by a Mexican firing squad.

The policia were smart. The gringo had dinero. Fox selflessly took the rap, setting the two other Americans loose through cash outlays and booty bribes.

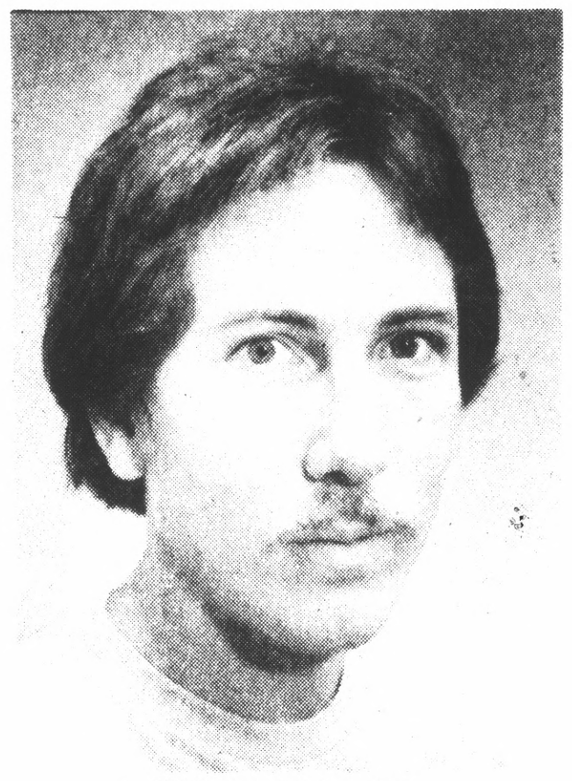
In eight days, he was free. And out $1,500 and $2,000 in valuables.

Friends bailed Fox out, and saved his skin.

"I ran home like a dog with a tail between his legs. It was a very traumatic experience," said the 28-year-old Fox, "and a helluva way to grow up fast. It also set me back in bowling nine, ten months."

Bowling was out, driving a Yellow Cab in Daly City was in. "I could work to pay back my friends or become a bum, a turkey with thousands of dollars in debts," said Fox. "I could have skipped out on them all . . . or been a man."

Until last March, Fox "kept limber" by bowling



PBA Hopeful Sam Fox

maybe once or twice a week, and now is eyeing the fall PBA tour, which begins in October. He seems as eager as ever.

"Everybody agrees that the problems in Mexico put a new spark in my game," said Fox. "They increased my desire."

In 16 lifetime PBA major tournament stops, Fox has gained the finals — the top 24 — in six events, with his highest finish being fifth recently in Sacramento.

He is confident of success this season. "I think I'll win my fair share of national tournaments. You have to believe you're as good as (Dick) Weber, (Don) Johnson, (Don) Carter. Every high-average bowler has to believe that.

"I've always been a fanatic about the game, and I'm always over-confident — I have to learn how to control that. But I love bowling, and that love is still growing."

Love, yes. But there is a touch of masochism on the PBA circuit.

"There is a very sacrificial side to bowling. If you want to be a full-time pro bowler and make it a $35,000-a-year business you can't party, chase women, go out and gamble, get into the dope scene or hang around with 'off' people."

And there's a little matter of being in control of your faculties. You are the game. You make the mistakes. You make the strikes. It's you against the intangibles of lanes and pin placements.

"It's a lone game — nobody rolls the ball for you," said the 5-9, 155-lb. righthander. "It's a physical game. You pick up and swing 16 pounds 400, 500 times a day and walk that 12-15-foot approach for who knows how many miles?

"And it's mental. Your skills can be good, but you have to learn to apply concentration, get control of your will power. You plan in your subconscious to be cool, not to over-react. It's like my father told me: it's mind over matter."

When Fox is ready to bowl, he thinks of nothing. He is a bowling machine with an automatic arm-swing, a robot.

"You're only on the lanes five, eight seconds, but you're on the settee for a minute or two. It doesn't hurt to watch other people but it doesn't help to watch those scores."

Fox was leading a regional tournament in Las Vegas last weekend and felt he could win. "Then I started watching the scores, calculating every move. I lost control and finished second."

To keep his skills intact, Fox bowls constantly. To keep his mind intact, he studies theology, metaphysics, meditation and the Bible.

But to succeed, a pro bowler needs money, sponsors. To clear $15,000 you have to make around $30,000, says Fox. Only 15 per cent of the top-flight PBA bowlers make good money. Thirty-three per cent make a living.

"It helps to be single," explained Fox. "Single, and without any bills."

Fox, who first picked up a bowling ball at Seabowl in Pacifica in 1962 — "It was a way to get me off the streets" — carries a 212 tour average and would like to be up there with the Carters, Johnsons and Webers someday. But it's not a necessity.

"I'd just like to win enough to be comfortable, so I won't have to work two jobs. I believe money is just a medium of exchange. I have higher values than money."

He values his hide for one, and Fox expects to stay on the "Yanqui" side of the Mexican border prior to the start of the PBA fall season.

Pacifica Softball League Results

It took the Rookies eight innings to defeat the Continentals 10-4 in the Daly City Recreation divisions high school slow pitch softball league.

At the end of seven innings the score was tied 4-4 and the Rookies came up with a 6-run rally that was highlighted by a Dan Welch three run homer.

The Sharks needed eight innings to chew through the Daly City Fog and claim a 5-3 win.

Mike Herbert knocked in two runs with a bases-loaded double in the eighth to provide the margin of victory for the Sharks. Ray Ragona led the Sharks at the plate with a perfect 4 for 4 and scored three runs for the winners.

In other action the Holy Angels Brewers downed the Dobies by a final score of 10-5.

Marlins Take 2nd

The San Mateo Marlin Masters had to be content with runnerup honors in the Pacific Association Masters Swim Championships over the weekend.

Host Rinconada outscored the locals, 2,010 to 1,828.5. Marin was a distant third with 697 points, followed by the Olympic Club.

High point winners for the Marlin Masters included Bob Cossins, Ann Kay, Barbara Odone, Don Brown, Geri Orosco and Ray and Zada Taft.

Carol Skolnick, competing in the women's 30-34 division, set new standards in the 100 breast (1:31.6) and 200 breast (3:20.9), as did Pat Bresee in the 35-39 100 meter backstroke (1:20.9).

Jackson Five

The Jackson Five will take on the KYA One-Ders Wednesday, 1 p.m. in a softball game at the El Camino High School field in South San Francisco.

The Jackson Five, currently appearing in concert at the Circle Star Theatre in San Carlos, will feature Michael Jackson.

At the end of seven innings the score was tied 4-4 and the Rookies came up with a 6-run rally that was highlighted by a Dan Welch three run homer.

The Sharks needed eight innings to chew through the Daly City Fog and claim a 5-3 win.

Mike Herbert knocked in two runs with a bases-loaded double in the eighth to provide the margin of victory for the Sharks. Ray Ragona led the Sharks at the plate with a perfect 4 for 4 and scored three runs for the winners.

In other action the Holy Angels Brewers downed the Dobies by a final score of 10-5.

ON SCHEDULE

The Professional Building of Mary's Help Hospital is expected to be completed by December 1975. The six-story building will be connected to the hospital by an enclosed bridge.

Facility on Schedule

Construction of the Mary's Help Professional Building is proceeding on schedule towards its December 1975 completion date, according to Hugh Connolly, president of the Professional Building's Board of Directors.

Connolly also revealed that more than 6 per cent of the space initially available for physicians' suites in the new building has been reserved by prospective tenants.

The six story Professional Building is being constructed on a site directly north of Mary's Help Hospital. An enclosed bridge will connect the medical offices to the first floor of the hospital.

"The close proximity of physicians' offices to the hospital will help improve the continuity of patient care and will afford physicians and their patients many advantages," Connolly said.

"We believe that this has been a prime factor in attracting doctors to the new building," he said.

The Professional Building is uniquely designed for maximum utilization of the hillside site. The architectural firm of Stone, Marraccini and Patterson designed the structure using a stepped down hill approach which will afford tenants and their patients a panoramic view of the surrounding area.

Lathrop Construction Co. is the general contractor for the project.

The building will occupy approximately 59,000 gross square feet with parking for tenants and patients provided adjacent to the facility.

To increase accessibility of the Professional Building to the community, a free shuttle bus service between the new facility and local public transportation points will be operated for the convenience of patients.

Design plans and final specifications for the radiology and laboratory departments in the new building also are nearing completion.

These two departments will be operated by Mary's Help Hospital which will lease space in the new building.

According to Connolly, the board of directors of the Professional Building is negotiating with several independent pharmacists who have expressed an interest in providing pharmacy services.

The Professional Building is being financed, constructed and operated by Mary's Help Professional Building, Inc., a nonprofit corporation.

The facility is separate from Mary's Help Hospital and is not financed by funds which are being reserved for the construction and expansion of ambulatory care facilities at Mary's Help Hospital.

Pacifican Invents Fastener

Gordon R. Brandon, of 1223 Sheila Lane, Pacifica, has developed a new invention in the process of being introduced to manufacturers with the assistance and guidance of the Raymond Lee Organization.

The invention, covered by a patent application now pending in the U.S. Patent Office, consists of an improved fastening device for attaching an item to a supporting surface. It includes a linear externally threaded member bent at one end to form a head part extending perpendicularly to the rest of the member. The head has a smooth surface and tapers at its free end.

Fitness Camp Planned For Youths in Pacifica

The Pacifica Parks, Beaches and Recreation Department and the Golden Gate National Recreation area will co-sponsor a week long resident camp at Fort Funston.

The Fort Funston Camp is located near Lake Mercade. The camp will run from August 18-22, a four-night-five-day session.

The activity of this camp will evolve around physical fitness.

Fifty campers, 8-12 years old will take the AAHPER Youth Fitness Test, which assesses physical strength, stamina, speed, agility and coordination.

The campers will experience living in an underground silo and will participate in camp activities such as hiking, fishing and arts and crafts to give them a broader environmental awareness.

All money and permission slips must be returned to the recreation leaders at community centers before 4:30 p.m. Aug. 14.

The first 50 signed up from all of the community centers will be able to participate.

The trip will leave from City Hall, 9 a.m. Aug. 18.

For further information about the trip, call Dave Barry, recreation supervisor, at 355-4151, ext. 33.

Lamaze Film To Be Viewed In South SF

A film showing of the Lamaza Method of Childbirth is scheduled from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Aug. 29 in the South San Francisco West Orange Library downstairs auditorium, 840 West Orange Ave.

Another showing is scheduled at the San Mateo Department of Health and Welfare multipurpose room, 225 37th Ave., San Mateo, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., Sept. 12.

The film to be shown is "The Story of Eric Becoming."

YWCA Readies For Fall

San Mateo County Center of the YWCA, located in San Bruno, is taking reservations and giving information on their fall series of classes.

Brochures will be mailed in August. Call 588-7366 to be included on the mailing list.

Classes will be offered in trimnastics; judo; self-defense for women; tap dancing; polynesian dancing; belly dancing; junior little theater group for 12-15 year olds; pre-school tumbling, tennis; yoga; bridge; ballroom dancing; modern jazz; jazz dancing; sky-sailing; leathercraft; diet workshop; holiday workshop; and the children's cooperative nursery.

Classes are for all ages and interests.

YWCA Center is located at 560 El Camino Real in San Bruno.

YWCA membership is recognized and valid throughout the world.

Pacifica Firefighters Take First at Muster

Twenty-four Pacifica Firefighters Muster Association families attended one or both days of the Sunnyvale Muster, the fourth in the California Fireman's Muster Association season.

When the spray had cleared, Harvey Georgeson, Hank Juska, Gary Stofan, Sam Jacobs, Tom Fmale and Jim Morris had maneuvered the 1939 Seagrave to first place in Class 3 (1931-1940) Motorized Pumper.

State Championship points (First-30, Second-20, Third-10, and Participation-5) are awarded in each event at the five sanctioned musters.

The 90 points accumulated from past musters puts the Seagrave in a tie for first place with San Jose's 1931 Mack.

The men's bucket brigade team of Bob Drye, Jim Bonner, Warren Jabin, Dan Gadwah and Duane Berg garnered a second place and when added to seconds from the three previous musters, places them near the top of the standings.

In Benicia muster Sept. 6 and 7, the final event of the season, Seagrave and Mack go head to head in the final competition.

The men's and women's bucket brigade and hose cart teams also are practicing for the final events and a chance at placing in the final state championship standings.

New Supply Director for Peninsula

Appointment of Prince Hargrove III, as director of central supply services of Peninsula Hospital and Medical Center was announced today by Charles H. Mason, Jr., administrator.

Hargrove comes to Peninsula Hospital following 16 years service at University of California Hospital, San Francisco, where he has been a central supply supervisor.

Central supply is the department of the hospital which supplies all materials for surgery and for use of patients and physicians in the hospital.

Hargrove is a veteran, having served as a paratrooper in the United States Army Airborne Division. He attended Skyline College, San Bruno and City College, San Francisco.

In his spare time he is seeking a B.A. degree in business administration and economics.

He is married, and lives in San Bruno, with his wife, Addie, and two children, Prince IV, 3 and Rodney Jay, 2.

He formerly resided in Westlake, Daly City.

Fire Chief Cites SSF Promotion

South San Francisco Fire Chief Lawrence Toellner announced the promotion of Firefighter Gil Martinez to Fire Captain recently.

Captain Martinez, a 10-year veteran fireman, has been involved in the Bombero Training Program sponsored by the Peninsula Fire Chief's Association. The program is deisgned for firefighters to exchange training techniques and expertise.

The new fire captain is working towards his bachelor of arts degree in business with a concentration in personnel and industrial relations.

The appointment of Ed Brincat as a South San Francisco firefighter also was announced by Chief Toellner.

Brincat is a five-year veteran of the Moraga Fire Protection District. He also attended Diablo Valley College.

THE PERFECT HOST

Karl Manheim Liebfraumilch 23 oz.

Liebfraumilch wine pronounced (Leeb-fraw-milsh) is considered to be a soft white wine with a fruity taste. It is best appreciated when served chilled.

This is a very versatile wine that is frequently advertised as "correct with any dish".

At a $1.69 a fifth this imported German wine is a value.

Vince's Restaurant Now An Institution

Among San Mateo restaurateurs, Vince Licata is an institution. He first opened Vince's Italian and Seafood restaurant at 1528 El Camino Real back in 1945 to find there was a great demand for the quality food he had to offer. So great was the demand, in fact, that before long Vince had been dubbed "Fisherman's Wharf" of San Mateo. . . . Lehr's Greenhouse and Phil Lehr's Steakery in San Francisco get a big national publicity break when the new Master Charge commercials bow on network television. Split-screen technique shows a charming woman paying her luncheon tab at Lehr's Greenhouse with her Master Charge card, while her husband pays the dinner check with Master Charge in the elegant Wellington Room of Phil Lehr's Steakery . . . Matt Reis, Burlingame's Lincoln-Mercury tycoon, and a group of his salesmen, seen enjoying hefty dinners at The Moonraker restaurant, in Rockaway Beach, one recent evening. Topic of conversation, naturally, was the advent of 1976 autos. When this scribe departed, Matt had pencil in hand while "talking up a storm" with Nick Gust, popular owner of The Moonraker, Captain Charles, and Nick's restaurants.

Finocchio's Revue Wows Audiences

Finocchio's new revue, "Salute to San Francisco," is wowing hundreds of tourists and Bay Areans, alike. Choreography of the production numbers, which feature 14 talented female impersonators, is by Edmundo Mendoza, who formerly performed with Mexico's famed Ballet Folklorico . . . Wednesday evening is a great time to visit the Garden Restaurant complex in San Bruno's Tanforan Park Shopping Center. Every Wednesday, from 4 to 9 p.m., each of the nine Garden Restaurants offers a special $1.49 dinner. Wednesday, Sept. 3, is the date set for the drawing of a lucky winner in the "Back to School" promotion. Holder of the winning ticket receives $300 worth of school clothes from various shops located in the shopping center. Fill out the entry blank in today's "Bright Lights" and join in the fun . . . The special this weekend at Fling's Drive In (San Mateo and Burlingame locations) is a reduced price on burritos. Regularly priced at 40 cents, Dave Jazinsky's burritos will be only 25 cents August 8, 9 and 10. An every Tuesday special: Chili Dogs for 24 cents.

Hick'ry House 25th Year of Operation

If longevity is an appropriate indication of foundation, Adrian Stickney's restaurant empire is as solid as a rock. The original Hick'ry House in Redwood City is now in its 25th year of operation. The restaurant located in Palo Alto's Town and Country Village has been there for 22 years, and the Flamingo, which is located just down the street, has been serving satisfied customers for 17 years . . . Prime rib may be prime rib, but one of the best prime ribs of beef dinners in the Bay Area can be found at Scotty Campbell's, an award-winning restaurant in Redwood City which truly deserves its high rating . . . Not only is Enrico Romano a pizza specialist, he's an authority on the preparation of Italian dinners at his Romano's restaurant in Rockaway Beach, Pacifica. Once you've tried any one of his specialty dishes, you'll be back again and again . . . Driving to Nevada, anticipate being a winner? Start off being a winner by getting a Tahoe Drive-Up Package at Nevada Tours in San Mateo. It's available seven days a week and offers a bonus value of $10 per person. Call Kay (345-0488) for reservations and accommodations.

. . . Bayhill Lounge, located in the new Bayhill Shopping Center, San Bruno, is where you'll find some swift dance action. Adding to the club's solid reputation of presenting outstanding entertainment is a band called Apocalypse.

SM County Near Top In Income Study

California taxpayers reported $9,362 median adjusted gross income on 1973 personal income tax returns filed in 1974.

San Mateo County placed near the very top in both median and average income.

This is an increase of only 2 per cent over the previous year despite an 11 per cent rise in total adjusted gross income, from $75.5 billion to $83.3 billion, the Franchise Tax Board said Thursday.

The modest increase in median average income and large increase in total adjusted gross income was a result of the large number of small or no-tax returns filed, according to Allan Desin, manager-research and statistics, Franchise Tax Board.

Median income, Desin explained, is that point at which half the returns have greater and half have lesser income. The total number of returns increased approximately a half million, to 7.2 million with the bulk of the increase at the lower end of the income scale.

Large suburban Bay Area counties once again had the highest average incomes.

Contra Costa was first in median average adjusted gross income for all returns filed with $12,079, followed by Marin with $11,919, and San Mateo with $11,605. For joint returns of married couples, Marin County reported the highest median income of $17,966, San Mateo was second with $16,551, and Contra Costa was third with $15,889.

Certain types of income, such as Social Security payments, disability benefits, unemployment insurance payments, and some annuity income, are not included.

The information reported is based upon 1973 income year returns due April 15, 1974, Desin said.

the U.S. China Friendship Association and she hopes to locate some of the 500 delegates in Peking.

"It's ridiculous how language keeps countries apart," she said. "It's part of the conspiracy of government. You don't have contact with people when traveling. It's a great falsehood when people say they can travel all over the world and speak English," she said.

Mrs. Cathy Schulze of Hillsborough began corresponding in Esperanto in 1946 and since then has met more than 100 of the people she has written to.

"It got so I knew them as friends even though we never met," she said. In 1966, she met a girl from Munich, a family in Czechoslovakia, and a woman in Hungary whom she had been writing for 20 years.

The international conferences are a major Esperanto event. Delegates gather from throughout the world communicating only in Esperanto.

"Sometimes you can pick up the individual accent but it usually just adds to the charm of the language," Mrs. Schulze said.

The lectures often are held in halls with listening devices for translations. Esperantists, she said, laugh at the expensive devices which are useless at their international gatherings.

"Anything you can do in other languages, you can do in Esperanto," she said. "You can swear, insult people — anything."

She and her husband, William, teach Esperanto classes in San Francisco.

Doris Vallon, a Foster City resident, learned Esperanto at the same time she was teaching it at Turnbull School in San Mateo — keeping one step ahead of the fourth and fifth grade students.

She now teaches the language to seventh and eighth grade students at Abbott Middle School in San Mateo.

Esperanto, she said, is a bridge language. It's scientifically structured to be simple and logical. She promotes a "one-planet" concept and Esperanto helps meet that goal.

"This way, you preserve everybody's national culture and share it," she said.

A goal of the local Esperanto Society with an office in San Mateo is to spread the teaching of Esperanto to elementary school children.

The children Ms. Vallon taught exchanged weather information with other children in France and corresponded with 30 different countries learning about their lives and cultures.

Ms. Rees said after three months, children in school are ready to correspond.

"My own interest is to see every school child who wants to learn Esperanto has the chance to," said Mrs. Schulze. "I want to see more money spent to train teachers to learn the language."

She wants parents to know what Esperanto has to offer. Inclusion of Esper- anto in school programs would be a real boost for declining enrollment in foreign language classes, she said.

"It's a great aid in getting familiar with other cultures. Soon as they begin corresponding with kids in other countries, they become interested in those countries. When they think of France, they will think of their pen palthere. They become more interested in learning about that country."

On a more worldy basis, the delegates say Esperanto is a necessity in better international relations communication.

"Progress is very slow," Mrs. Schulze said. "So few people are involved. There should be much more research. Right now, there is noserious research in Esperanto."

Ms. Rees said it costs governments millions of dollars to operate the United Nations in six main languages. A common language, she said, would reduce those costs.

By the year 2000, she said, Esperanto will be compulsory. There wouldn't be enough interpreters to handle international business and a common language will be necessary.

The United States, delegates agree, is not quick to accept the concept of Esperanto. In fact, at an international conference in Vienna in 1970, the Austrian President, a fluent Esperantist, told delegates to "look to themselves — don't expect your government to do anything."

Esperantists counter criticism that their language is a sterile one. Esperantists, they say, keep their own language and culture. Esperanto is the second language everyone should learn.

"Our answer is that Esperanto embraces all cultures," Ms. Rees said. "It brings all cultures together. An Esperantist has access to the whole world."

Bruno Planners Adopt Housing Plan Element

A meticulous examination of a draft housing element for the San Bruno general plan led to unanimous adoption of the element by the planning commission Monday night.

The commission also approved an environmental impact assessment report of suggested housing programs and decided on a priority list of "action programs" for housing improvement and construction within the city.

The programs were suggested by the consultanting firm of Torrey and Torrey Inc., which was retained by the city to prepare the housing element.

The element, as revised by the commission, will be forwarded to the City Council for consideration.

The housing element analyzes population and housing characteristics, identifies housing needs, constraints and opportunities for construction of housing and proposes goals, policies and action programs for housing.

Priority action housing programs endorsed by the commission included:

• Establishment of a comprehensive code enforcement program over the next three years.

• Establishment of a comprehensive housing conservation-rehabilitation program over the next three years.

• Establishment of a means to increase the supply of quality housing and lower the cost of new housing over the next three years.

• Seeking the use of all available funding sources to carry out housing conservation for all groups over the next three years.

• Establishment of a local housing information and referral system over the next three years.

• Encouragement and help for neighborhoods to form housing advisory committees to maintain neighborhoods over the next three years.

• Strengthening of the existing provisions of the zoning ordinance and develop new housing measures as necessary to improve neighborhood quality over the next five years.

• Encouragement of the cooperation of other agencies, citizens and business interests in neighborhood rehabilitation efforts over the next five years.

• Establishment of a strategy for upgrading neighborhoods as well as housing "stock" over the next ten years.

• Ensuring the provision of housing for all groups, especially special need groups, over a ten year period.

The consultants suggested that to increase the supply of housing the city should expand the planned development ordinance to allow cluster of individual home sites on small lots; and employ incentives ("such as density bonuses added to the zoning ordinance") to increase supply.

Commissioner Leon Miller objected to giving bonuses to developers to construct high density housing. He stated: "This is like asking the taxpayer to subsidize the developer."

The commission agreed the word "bonuses" would be stricken from the document, but told the planning staff it could explore various "incentives" to encourage developers to build high density units.

Commissioner Miller also expressed concern over establishing a code enforcement program and an information and referral system.

He said he feared the city would have to hire additional personnel to administer the programs.

Planning Director Paul Moeller, however, assured him the city's two building inspectors would administer code enforcement. Moeller also told Miller the building department would handle referrals.

John Torrey emphasized to the commission Monday night that because there was little available land for new developments in San Bruno, an ongoing building code enforcement program would be wise.

The commission deleted some provisions of the element which it believed could not be enforced by the city and added some provisions which it maintained needed to be included to present a clear assessment of the housing situation in San Bruno.

Commissioner Robin Nowinski objected to the ommission in the element of any reference to the impact automobiles have on residential neighborhoods. Staff members and other commissioners indicated they were satisfied that another general plan element, the circulation element, would address itself to the problems generated by the automobile.

This, however, did not satisfy Nowinski and it was decided by the commission that some reference to the impact automobiles have on neighborhoods would be included in the housing element.

Ex-Officers of Humane Society Maintain Silence

Two of the three top career employes who quit the Peninsula Humane Society Thursday indicated Tuesday that they are not retiring and will seek other management posts.

The board of directors is seeking applications to fill the positions vacated by Col. John Regan (USA-Ret.), general manager; Jeffrey Bell, and Geoffrey Cook Jr., who managed the shelter and animal program. All three have refused to comment directly on their resignations.

However, dissatisfaction appeared to center on inadequate salary adjustments for all staff in a time of inflation and a feeling that the board did not allow its managers enough freedom in their roles, and in dissatisfaction with job development, including training programs.

Colonel Regan said that while most board members visited the shelter only occasionally, the board president, Louis R. Goldsmith of Palo Alto, visited almost daily.

Bell, a career humane officer who has been with the PHS for 11 years, said, "The board runs it."

Colonel Regan, who emphasized he is not "retiring" and will seek another management position, said he had not acted because of any inadequacy of his salary — more than $19,000 annually — but that he did not rule out as a factor the salaries paid other employes, including Cook and Bell who received slightly over $13,000 per year.

Bell admitted that he felt the salaries of all staff might not be what they should be. There are 60 employes, he said.

When asked if office arrangements, time arrangements, or interference by any board member were involved, Colonel Regan refused comment.

He did say that "I had been there two years, effective in July. I had accomplished some objectives and not others. I always have had the interests of the Society uppermost."

Bell said that it was not a coincidence that he resigned when Regan did. "After 11 years, I felt it was futile to continue," he said. "I felt I was batting my head against the wall."

Humane work, he said, "is more than a job. It is a philosophy, a way of life. It involves my integrity."

His primary interest, he said, involved two things, the care and welfare of the animals, and the concerns of the employes.

The resignations came at a time when the Society was completing a building program that adds a half-million-dollar facility to the existing structures.

American Cancer Society Unit Honors Volunteers

The American Cancer Society's San Mateo County Unit has granted its Service Award of the Year to Mrs. George A. Bigon of Daly City, a member of the "Freewheelers" who has driven in excess of 2000 miles transporting cancer patients to treatment centers.

The Unit, who made the presentation at its Recognition Tea last week, also gave special recognition to Mrs. Madeline Carp of San Mateo, who volunteered 500 hours at the ACS office in Foster City.

Those who received awards for public education include the following: Juan Arguello, public health microbiologist and medical technologist at Chope Hospital, who served as a speaker for Cancer Education Programs; Thomas Mack, chairman of Cancer Education Week, and Jamie Mongini, public education chairman for the City of San Mateo.

Also Fred P. Wurlitzer, M.D., for his medical supervision of the Breast Examination Clinic at Hillsdale Shopping Center during Cancer Education Week; and the College of San Mateo student nurses, who provided nursing service for the Breast Clinic. The latter award was accepted by Mrs. Donald Brock of Belmont, unit education chairman, and Maureen Kennelly, R.N., director of student nurses at CSM.

Also cited for their assistance were Leasemobile of San Bruno, its manager William Schneider, and attorney George Corey, who donated the use of a mobile home for the breast exams.

Mrs. Raymond Fross was honored for her role as speaker and chairman of the Breast Self-Examination teachers.

Still others cited include Peninsula Life Underwriters in San Mateo, who assisted with the Employee Education Drive under the chairmanship of Bernie Britts and Herb Nieman; Ed Crump, chef of the Redwood City Elks Lodge, who donates his services annually for the Emerald Lakes Fund Raising Dinner; and Sheriff John R. McDonald, who served as 1975 County Crusade chairman.

Also Emanuel Damonte of South San Francisco and Mrs. William Jackson Jr. of Woodside, who were residential chairmen for their respective cities; Mrs. Kay Leale, president of the Cancer League of the San Mateo Unit; and Mesdames Theo Scherba, Boyd Plaine, Louis Heins and David Smily, of the ACS San Carlos Auxiliary.

Five Hurt in Accidents

A bicyclist was injured at 8:45 p.m., Sunday, in the San Mateo Highlands when his bicycle was struck by a car on Lexington Avenue just west of Ticonderoga Drive, the highway patrol reports.

Highway Patrolman Mike Marlatt said that Frank D. Oliver, 24, of 1928 Lexington, was eastbound on his 10-speed bike when he was struck by a car driven by Barbara K. Gogue, 22, of 1046 Eagle Lane, Foster City.

Oliver was taken to Mills Memorial Hospital with a compound fracture of the right leg, and multiple cuts and abrasions of the head.

In an accident at 5:25 p.m., Sunday, Roger B. Adams, 33, of 674 Oak Park Way, Redwood City, suffered major injuries when his motorcycle overturned on Crystal Springs Road east of Skyline Boulevard, Highway Patrolman G. C. Eagleton reported. Adams was taken to Mills Hospital.

Two persons were injured at 2:20 p.m., Sunday, in a motorcycle mishap on Pescadero Road about 12 miles east of Cabrillo Highway.

Highway Patrolman Donald Woods said that a motorcycle operated by Frank J. Martinez, 18, of San Francisco, hit the gravel soulder on a sharp curve and went down.

A passenger on the motorcycle, Linda Quave, 19, of 68 Franklin St., South San Francisco, suffered multiple cuts and abrasions and a possible concussion. Martinez suffered cuts of the right arm. Both victims were taken to Chope Community Hospital.

John P. Roddy, 41, 606 Birch Ave., San Mateo, suffered a cut on the thorat and possible fractured ribs and head injuries at 10 p.m., Saturday, when his car ran off Junipero Serra Freeway three-tenths of a mile north of Crystal Springs Road, hit a fence and caught fire, patrolmen report.

Roddy was taken to Chope Hospital.

Discount Clothing Stores Will Aid Senior Citizens

Senior citizens in San Mateo County soon will be able to buy clothing at discount prices thanks to the Gerbode Foundation of San Francisco and the American Association of University Women.

The six AAUW branches in the county have received a small grant from the Gerbode Foundation to establish a countywide Store Discount Program for senior citizens who are 65 years of age and older. "Community Concern for Senior Citizens" is the name of the program which is being modeled after a highly successful project started four years ago in New York City.

Volunteers from AAUW will call on merchants to solicit discounts for the seniors. Cooperating stores will display in their windows a green and white decal depicting a man and woman walking under an umprella displaying the words, Community Concern for Senior Citizens.

Proof of age will be necessary to obtain a discount from the participating stores which all will be listed in a brochure to be mailed to county organizations working with seniors. This service will be free.

The program is expected to enable seniors to stretch their available dollars and enable them to maintain a greater sense of dignity and personal growth. Program planners also hope to show older residents experiencing financial hardship that they have not been forgotten or neglected.

AAUW members assisting with the program include the following: Mesdames Ronald J. MacQuarrie, Redwood City, Menlo-Atherton Branch chairman; Bernard Corner, Redwood City, San Carlos Branch chairman; John E. Ralston, Nicholas Remer and Ruth Rawson, all of Menlo Park; Warren T. Scott, Redwood City, and Richard Propst, Atherton. All of the aforementioned will be working in the Menlo Park-Atherton-Redwood City area.

Millbrae Trustees Adopt Budget

A cautious group of Millbrae School District trustees adopted the district's 1975-76 budget Monday by a 4-1 vote.

Trustee Theodore Dimitre voted against the budget because, according to him, the district had not been hard-nosed enough in trimming employes from the payroll as the district's enrollment drops.

Dimitre said after the meeting that he could not vote in favor of the budget because, earlier in the year, the district had reinstated a number of teachers who had been ticketed for lay-offs due to the district's enrollment decline.

Dimitre, however, was not allowed to voice his objections about the budget publicly. He wanted to after the vote was cast at least one other trustee, Remo Borragno, objected. Board President Robert Garay, by not stepping in to rule, sided with Borragno.

Dimitre had expressed similar views on the budget last week.

Still, the rest of the Millbrae board took a conservative approach to this year's budget too.

The $5.4 million document contains a special reserve of some $310,000 which has been earmarked for contingencies resulting from the kind of fiscal problems which beset most San Mateo County public school districts.

According to Supt. Edward Muehlhausen, that reserve will allow Millbrae to phase out certain programs in an orderly fashion over the next two years.

The budget also features a general fund reserve of $145,000 and another contingency reserve of about $160,000 which, presumably, has been ticketed for increases in teachers' salaries.

The inclusion of such high reserve categories is not new in Millbrae. Muehlhausen has had such funds in the Millbrae budget for several years.

The budget approved Monday will be another deficit budget by an estimated $130,000.

The new tax rate is expected to decline by about 46 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. The new rate is about 90 cents per $100.

Millbrae's AV has risen by a reported 19 per cent, hence the drop in the tax rate.

A major reason for the healthy decline in the tax rate is that San Francisco International Airport has been re-appraised. It is located, in part, in Millbrae.
